THE LESSONS OF HISTORY.

In the present chaotic condition of the country, when the foundations of all ideas, creeds and principles upon which governments, society and morals rest, are threatened with subversion, it is well that we should remember that there is something fixed. And in the recognition of that fact, it is well that we should most carefully search, in the dim demonstrations of the purpose of the UNALTERABLE WILL, as recorded in the long record of man's existence, crimes, failures and miseries, for some rays of light, some landmarks by which we may guide our uncertain steps, in our blind groping down the rugged pathway of the future.

The most profound student amongst men, living or dead, of the exhibitions of the eternal will, as written in the material, and in the moral world of man—the most comprehensive reflector, the most philosophic analyst of these vast problems, has left us the results of his observations and meditations, in words replete with sadness, and laden with the heavy burthen of truth.

"The sun ariseth and the sun goeth down, and hasteneth to the place where he arose.

"The wind goeth toward the South, and turneth about unto the North, it whirleth about continually, and the wind returneth again according to its circuits.

"All the rivers run into the sea; the sea is not full; unto the place from whence the rivers come, thither they will return again.

"The thing that hath been, it is that which shall be; and there is no new thing under the sun.

"Is there anything whereof it may be said, See, it is new? It hath been already of old time, which was before us."

History but repeats itself.

Though but a sad reflection from many points of view, a truth, bearing upon its brow the marks of man's fall, yet it is a reflection under present circumstances full of consolation and rich in hope for the future.

When Oliver Cromwell trampled upon the Crown of England, and his crop-eared bloodhounds laid waste her palaces and gardens, crushing works of art and scattering loved memorials of past times with brutal joy—when they had spilled like common water, and wasted to its very dregs, the grand old Norman blood that had built the British Empire, and given it laws and civilization, and arms, and raised it one among the powers of the earth—that imperious and noble blood that hath fed its armies and moulded all its counsels—then came the reaction, and Charles II, amidst tears of ecstacy and hearts bursting with joy, was proclaimed by almost universal acclamation, King of England. And the least of the bloodhounds had come to an end. So the "Mayflower" set her sails, laden with the germs of future woe, and the Norway rats and the English Radicals landed together on that small stone typically called Plymouth Rock, to the pest of the world, and the destruction of the United States Government. But Charles II was the successor of Charles I, who had lost his life in defending his crown against the most repugnant, pernicious and persistent subverter of noble institutions that ever afflicted the race of man in his wretched advance through time.

And when the wolves of France had discovered the fairest head in Europe—over whose fate Edmund Burke, the grandest of statesmen ever produced upon the soil of the British Empire, poured his immortal lament in words that will touch every true man's heart while the language lasts—Napoleon I, seized the government and butchered them in the streets, and afterwards fell himself from his own butchery, and the Bourbons again reigned.

When Marius of Rome—master of butchers, brutal, savage hater of elevation, hater of all excellence,—leveller, destructive, Radical,—at the head of a filthy mass of emissaries and foreign slaves, assaulted his country and turned her fields, her forums, her gardens and her palaces into butcher-pens for the spilling of that blood which through centuries had made Rome the master of the world, and the unrivalled mistress of the world's historic romance—then came Sylla. Sylla! name fraught with terror to all mobs, and of hate to all mobocrats. Sylla! the great avenger of blood and brutality. Sylla! the noblest man, save only one, on the record even of Rome's heroic history. Sylla! that synonym of dauntless courage, and of unparalleled self devotion, prototype of all grand, masterly attributes of manhood—embodiment of all chivalrous conceptions and self-abnegation—sublime beyond rivals in the grandeur of his moral power,—Sylla, red-handed, a Fate, succeeded Marius, the Beast, and the Roman Empire was established.

"History but repeats itself, we say again, and will but repeat itself in these States in America.

We are in the midst of revolution—revolution more complete and radical than when our boys stormed the works around Richmond, or when Sherman burnt Columbia. It is a revolution not merely of arms, but of ideas, institutions and government. It is fundamental. As such let us look upon it, and the future.

It is with unfeigned contempt, therefore, that we turn from counsels such as that reported by the correspondent of the New York Herald, as delivered by Mr. Alexander Stephens, of Georgia.

Having expressed the opinion that a war of races must take place, Mr. Stephens was asked:

"Well what will the white population do in such an event?

"One of two things—quit the country or remain and fall. For my part my mind is made up. I have not long to live. I will stay and go down with the ship; but to the young, I would counsel them to find homes elsewhere."

What! Eight million of civilized white men abandon their homes,—abandon, perhaps the noblest territorial expanse upon the face of the world, and surrender their country, in ignoble panic, to three millions of barbarians, and these barbarians the weakest and lowest in the scale of men—negroes! We confess ourselves astonished, disgusted. Where had Rome and Roman civilization been, had the noble blood that fought under Sylla and lifted their bleeding country from the mire, deserted their cause in weak dismay, and surrendered it to Marius and his slaves? No, gentlemen, stand to your colors. This is our country, and please God we will keep it yet, and rule it.

The Bankrupt Act.

We have been requested to publish the Bankrupt Law. This is impossible. It makes a respectable volume. In order, however, that our readers may understand it, and may therefore not be made to or imposed upon by parties, who are imminent to the interests of others, we have taken some pains to compile from several sources the following general principles of the Act, for the benefit of all who contemplate seeking its benefits. But first of all, we advise our friends not to determine hastily what they will do, until they have had the counsel of a respectable and intelligent Attorney, upon whom they can rely.

1. The manifest design of the Bankrupt Law is to benefit honest, but unfortunate, debtors, whose just liabilities are greater than they can pay.

2. To become a voluntary bankrupt under this Act, the debtor must owe at least $300, which, of course, he is not able to pay in full.

3. Petitioners under the Bankrupt Act are required to render a schedule of all their debts and liabilities, of every kind and description whatever, and also an inventory of all their estate, both real and personal, including all property and effects of which they are possessed, or in which they may have an interest, although not in possession, in conformity with certain "Forms" prescribed in the "General Orders" of the Supreme Court of the United States. These schedules, verified by the oath of the petitioner before a District Court Judge, Register in Bankruptcy, or U S Commissioner, must accompany the petition, and, when filed, is the commencement of proceedings in Bankruptcy. If it should be found out, pending the proceedings at any time before the bankrupt is discharged, that he has, by any shift or subterfuge, made a false or partial schedule, this would be evidence of fraud and would defeat his discharge.

4. When the petition is by a firm or copartnership, a full set of schedules of the respective estates of the members of the firm should also be added.

5. When the petition is filed, the case is immediately referred to a Register, who examines the petition and schedules annexed thereto, and if they are correct in form, makes a certificate to that effect, to be filed with the Clerk, then adjudges the debtor a Bankrupt and issues a warrant to the messenger to summon all the creditors named in the petitioner's schedules to meet at the Register's office, at a certain time and place, to prove their claims and elect one or more Assignees to take charge of the Bankrupt's estate.

6. A creditor can, however, prove his claim at any time previous to the last dividend, which will generally be six months subsequent to the adjudication of Bankruptcy.

7. No creditor has any standing in a Bankrupt Court until he proves his claim.

8. Creditors have no right to compel the Bankrupt to answer questions concerning the disposal of property by him acquired subsequent to filing a petition in Bankruptcy. "In other words, the date of the filing of the petition by or against a debtor, is the date at which, if adjudication of bankruptcy follows, the old order of things passes away and a new leaf is turned over." On this point decisions have been variant. The safe rule appears to be, that the applicant in Bankruptcy has a perfect right to claim whatever he has made after his application, by his personal exertions, but any profits he may have made, from investment or credit, may be liable to the claim of the receiver up to almost the period of his discharge.

9. The Bankrupt can apply to the Court at any time after the expiration of six months, and within one year from the adjudication, for the discharge in bankruptcy, and in case no assets come into the hands of the assignee, or no debts be proved against his estate, at any time after the expiration of sixty days.

10. As soon as an Assignee is elected or appointed, the Judge or Register will convey to him, by deed of assignment, all the bankrupt's property except what is exempted, viz: Household and kitchen furniture and other necessaries not exceeding in value ($500) five hundred dollars; also his wearing apparel and that of his wife and children, and such other property not included in the foregoing as is exempt from levy and sale upon execution or attachment by the laws of the State in which the bankrupt resides, to an amount not exceeding that allowed by State exemption laws in force in 1864. A sage Counsellor suggests, under this head, that the common impression that persons may become bankrupts and yet be allowed to retain their houses and lands, or other property of considerable value, is a great mistake. Under the Act, no honest Bankrupt in this State can have allotted to him, free from the operation of the Act, exceeding $700, besides the wearing apparel of himself and family. Bankrupts in this State are not entitled to homesteads under this Act.

11. It is the duty of the assignee, within twenty days after the assignment to him is made, to allot to the bankrupt such articles as are exempted, and file an inventory of the same with the value of each article so allotted, and creditors may make objections to the report of the Assignee at any time within twenty days after it is filed.

12. As to costs in bankruptcy proceedings, section 46 of the Bankrupt Act provides that the petitioner, before a warrant issues, shall deposit fifty dollars with the Register, or with the Clerk, to be delivered to the Register as a security for his fees. General order XXIX provides that the fees of the Register, Marshal and Clerk shall be prepaid or secured before they can be compelled to act. It is also provided by General order XXX, that where the debtor has no means, and can prove the fact to the satisfaction of the Court, upon application, an order will be made requiring all the costs in the case to be paid out of the fifty dollars deposited with the Register. If, however, there are assets, but not enough to pay the Messenger after deducting the Bankrupt's exempted property, so that nothing comes into the hands of the Assignee, the fees will have to be paid by the Bankrupt; but if the Assignee receives assets, the fees of the Messenger will be paid by him before any dividend is made among creditors.

13. Some suppose that the Register is entitled to $50 fee. The fees of the Register, Messenger, Clerk, and costs of publication of notices in Bankruptcy, are fixed by law, and if they demand higher fees, they are liable, as in other cases of malfeasance in office. In ordinary cases of Bankruptcy, the fees may amount to $100. In some cases more, in some less—the costs depending on the amount of labor and litigation involved in each case.

14. Differences of opinion among Attorneys have existed in this State, as to the limit which the Act makes as to the time to make application in Bankruptcy. Some have supposed that no debtor will be permitted to apply for Bankruptcy after some early day in March, unless he is able to pay fifty per cent of his debts. We are assured that this is not the case. The law did not go into operation for the purposes for which it was enacted until June 1st, 1867. It gives twelve months from that time, to all honest debtors, whatever may be the extent of their indebtedness which they cannot pay in which to present their applications. After the 1st of June next, every debtor must be able to pay fifty per cent of his indebtedness in order to a successful application in bankruptcy, unless he first obtain the consent of a majority of his creditors.

SATURDAY, MAY 9, 1868

THE UNIVERSITY.

There are many pleasant reminiscences of this time-honored institution, never to be forgotten. Many of the best and ablest men of this and other States remember its classic walls with a tender affection. They would rejoice to see their Alma Mater towering above all others, with new strength and vigor, blessing the land and imprinting upon the intellects and affections of the youth of the country her lessons of wisdom and virtue. What there is left of the University of pecuniary means is the property of the State, but her history belongs to her Alumni and to those who have been her supporters. All will still hope that she may live and flourish, but sad forebodings as to her future, creep over the minds of those who have loved and venerated her, in view of the recent action of the so called State Convention.

The new Constitution in Article IX, Sec. 5, says, "The University of North Carolina, with its lands, emoluments and franchises, is under the control of the State, and shall be held to an inseparable connection with the Free Public School system of the State." Sec. 6 provides, that "the General Assembly shall provide that the benefits of the University, as far as practicable, be extended to the youth of the State free of expense for tuition." The second section directs the General Assembly, at its first session, "to provide by taxation and otherwise, for a general and uniform system of Public Schools, wherein tuition shall be free of charge to all the children of the State between the ages of six and twenty one years." From all which we are forced to conclude, that the Convention designed to allow no distinction whatever to be made in regard to the white or black children of the State, either in the benefits of the Public Schools or of the University. If this be so, no one can doubt the fate of the University, when negro boys are admitted on equal terms into its walls.

But farther than this: The new Constitution ousts, without regard to their chartered rights, the present Board of Trustees of the University. The Board of Education shall elect Trustees for the University on a given plan according to section 13.—We have always understood that the Board of Trustees of the University was a corporation with a common seal, &c. If so, they certainly have chartered rights and a succession, to be continued in a certain way.—Is it within the province even of a regular State Convention authorized according to our organic law and republican forms, to break up and annul a charter? We do not know the precise character of the Trustees of the University as a corporate body, or that there is anything in their investment differing from other corporators, but it seems to us that their right of succession and investiture, according to the charter, cannot be invalidated and rendered null, even by the people themselves, so long as the Trustees perform their duties, until the charter expires. We know that extravagant ideas of the power of Conventions have grown up of late in the country. It is contended by some that they are omnipotent. We admit no such teaching. Conventions called without express limitation, according to the organic law of a State, are assumed in American politics, to be capable of doing everything that the people could do, if present and acting. This we hold to be correct. But there are some things that the people cannot do. For instance, the people of North Carolina can do nothing legitimately which violates the Constitution of the United States. This the people of North Carolina bound themselves never to do when they ratified the Constitution of the United States. Hence we always held that secession was an invalid, illegitimate act, though a revolutionary right, and hence nugatory and void, unless made good by successful revolution. The people of North Carolina cannot, without violating the Constitution of the United States, pass any law, organic or statutory, "impairing the obligation of contracts." Now we do not certainly know, that there is anything in the character of the Trustees of the University peculiar and differing from other corporations. A charter is always understood to be of the nature of a "contract," and heretofore nothing has been considered more binding than a charter,—a contract made between the State and other parties, for certain purposes specified, and that nothing but malfeasance or misfeasance in office or some breach of trust or duty, could work a forfeiture of the charter or the rights and powers conveyed by it. If this be so, could the people of North Carolina declare null the contract made years ago between the State and the Trustees of the University, unless it could be first shown that they had violated the charter or until it expired by limitation?

We do not make these suggestions for the purpose of creating any difficulty, but to ascertain the truth in the matter, that the doubts in our own minds may be cleared up. We shall be glad if any one learned in the law, would instruct us upon this subject.

DISCHARGED BANKRUPTS.—In the Southern District of New York, thirteen hundred petitions in bankruptcy have been filed.—Of this number only 300 have been granted a discharge by Judge Blatchford.

VIRGINIA STATE CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION.

This body met at Richmond on Thursday last. Sixty-three Counties were represented. Hon. John B. Baldwin, of Augusta, was chosen President. In his speech he said, "that the Convention was assembled to endeavor to save the life of Virginia, by defeating a Constitution which was a galling disgrace." After appointing a Committee, the Convention adjourned till night.

At night the Convention adopted resolutions that candidates be selected who are true to the Constitution of the United States, with the honor of Virginia, and without reference to their ability to take the iron clad oath. Also authorizing the appointment of delegates to the National Democratic Convention.

Several names were then put in nomination, including Hon. A. H. H. Stuart, Robt. E. Withers, and others, without balloting.

The Convention adjourned to meet again on Friday.

"GOING HOME."—We understand the Governor elect has declined going to Washington City. Would it have been a good or bad idea for the entire Radical State ticket to have gone on in a body? We should have been glad for the Congress to have formed the acquaintance of the entire officiary to whom the interests of the State have been confided. Especially ought such men as Mr. Sumner, Mr. Trumbull, Reverdy Johnson, Messrs. Bingham, Boutwell, Stevens and Butler, get acquainted with the eminent judicial lights of the present North Carolina Bench, such as C. C. Pool, Judges Jaybird Jones, Tourgee, Dan Russell, Sam Watts, and Judges Logan, Henry, Cannon and others. It would be a good cure for ague and fever, to hear them taken through a course of sprouts by such lawyers as Fessenden, Trumbull, Johnson, &c.

Horace Greeley says:

For young men who are worth $1,000 each we regard Virginia, Tennessee, and the Carolinas, as very inviting. Twenty such may buy for $10,000 an estate large enough to cut up into twenty good farms, and then have half of their money left for improvements, &c. By settling together and cherishing a fraternal spirit, they may diminish by one-half the amount they must otherwise invest in teams, implements, &c. We advise no poor young man to migrate South alone; but let twenty to forty go together, buy an estate judiciously located, cut it up, start a store, a blacksmith shop, a common school, &c., and they will double the value of their purchase in one year, and be in good circumstances within ten years. There are as cheap lands and as good chances to-day in the South as in the West; but a man worth $100 may squat in the West on a quarter section in some section remote from present settlements, and grow into a competence; whereas we could advise no one to migrate Southward with less than $500, while if he goes alone and settles among utter strangers, he will need far more than that.

Vicious as old Greeley's politics are and have been, there are yet some good streaks in him. In the above he tells the simple truth, and gives some good advice.

The Norfolk Virginian says: "Since the election in North Carolina, large numbers of negroes have poured into Norfolk. By each canal boat and schooner that arrives these loyal voters come, and we must look to the next registration.

Exactly so. Many people believe that Virginia and South Carolina were made to pour into this State, hordes of negroes to take part at the late election; and many further believe that counties where they were not needed to elect the Radical ticket, were made to disgorge them upon other counties where the result was more doubtful.

JOHN W. THOMAS.—Some of the friends of John W. Thomas, as we understand, are disposed to complain of our editorial in the last number of the Patriot on his trial, as calculated to do him injustice and prejudice him in public estimation. We are sure we have no ill will against him, and would be very far from doing him any injustice, knowingly. In fact, the greatest portion of that article was aimed at a very gross crime which we believe has become too prevalent in our country, rather than charging Mr. Thomas with being guilty of it.

We have since learned the facts of the case which transpired on the trial to be these (for we did not hear the whole of the trial nor the charge of His Honor.) A record from the Court of Equity of Davidson was offered in evidence by the prosecution which was objected to by the defendant's counsel, but admitted by the Court. This record contained what purported to be the deposition of the defendant upon which the offence was charged. It appeared also in evidence from the said record that the oath was administered by a Clerk and Master in Equity, as a commissioner of affidavits, or on arbitration. The grounds of defence set up by defendant's counsel were that the oath taken by defendant was not a judicial oath and that the copy of the deposition was not competent evidence, but that the original should have been produced. His Honor charged the jury that the oath was taken before a competent authority, and that the copy of the deposition, (as it was not objected to at the time when read,) although the whole record had been objected to in the opening of the case, was competent evidence upon which they might convict. The jury brought in a verdict of guilty—which was set aside by the Judge before they left the clerk's table, and a new trial granted. We understand that the counsel of the defendant were so confident that they were entitled to a verdict of acquital, on the law of the case, that they did not deem it necessary to introduce any evidence on the facts. We deem it but just to Mr. Thomas to make these remarks by way of explanation, and to do away with any erroneous impression which may have been made by our former article. We understand that Mr. Thomas' friends are confident in the opinion that when the case is tried upon the facts as it will be hereafter, that he will be able to exculpate himself from the charge made against him, and to vindicate his character as an honest man. We take no side in this matter, but wish justice may be done to the State and to the defendant, and we are sure we have no design or intention to say or do any thing to the prejudice of the defendant.—Greensboro' Patriot.

The raising of cotton in Egypt has ceased to be remunerative since the termination of our war, and large tracts of land lately employed for that purpose are being sown with wheat. In ancient times Egypt was the granary of the world, and it may become so again.

CONSCIENCE AND CANDOR IN THE SENATE COURT.

We publish elsewhere the statement of a correspondent of the New York Herald to the effect that Mr. Fessenden has prepared an elaborate exposition of his views upon the impeachment, concluding that upon the law and evidence the President must be acquitted. We deem this representation entirely credible. In the Senatorial course of Mr. Fessenden no degree of partisan zeal which he has ever manifested has authorized any person to expect that he would become capable of expressing a solemn judgment which he had not formed, and of declaring on his oath that he believed the accused guilty upon the law and evidence, when in his favor. It is melancholy to confess that any man is on the floor of the Senate of the Republic of whom the same cannot be said. It is deplorable that this hypothesis of the conscience of a single Senator should appear so like a tribute to extraordinary probity. Yet it cannot be that Mr. Fessenden is alone in the choice of common honesty over fraud, imposture, and perjury. All Senators believe that the prosecution has utterly failed. It seems impossible that any one should think the charges, or any of them, sustained. If, however, there really are Senators who sincerely judge, that upon the Constitution and laws of the United States, and the evidence of record in the case, Andrew Johnson is guilty of a crime, the theory upon which they hold that judgment must be the only proof of its sincerity. Certainly no ordinary prosecution could reach such a showing in court. The presumption, broad as the land of the living and stern as fate that motives which on their oaths they solemnly abjured dictated so extraordinary an opinion, will follow the votes for conviction forever, unless they contravene it at the time by such explanations as may reconcile so strange an exception to the principles of criminal adjudication with the actual record as it is impurity, however flattering to the recipient of it, or however romantically bestowed, would or could go the length, amongst a man's own neighbors, to invent for him excuses for a verdict against law and evidence in a criminal case. The excuse must accompany the act; and more, it must be satisfactory—satisfactory, not only to excited campaigners prepossessed with party exigencies, in their nature, transient as violent, but satisfactory to dispassionate audiences or indifferent spectators at some time when a future excitement shall preoccupy even the now enemies of Andrew Johnson, and an assailant reads the law and evidence, and then, in the face of the recorded perjurer, contrasts the case with the verdict, in the hearing of men bred to the charge of the bench and the oath of the jury-box. Fatal beyond all political or social resurrection must be the delusion under which Senators might escape the awkwardness of an imperfect disguise for a forsworn and guilty vote by locking themselves in the marble fastnesses of the Capitol for the consummation, in silence and in darkness, of the work of deposing a President of the United States. A judgment of spotless and palpable purity, on a record of accumulated and deniable crime, would be blackened and dishonored in history, if it concerned so transcendent a public matter as the removal of a Chief Magistrate, and was the product of a conclave's noisome and obscure distillation. To the end of time, the public imagination, even without substantive material, would be haunted by apparitions of dark deeds, unholy intrigues, and unrighteous combinations. Secrecy and falsehood are so closely allied in human nature that all human beings are instinctively intolerant of mystery in others about their own business. But in their own servants, the Sovereign People will punish reserve as a crime, when they find it needlessly engrafted upon a trial so public that the world looks down from the gallery of the court room, and the nation is at stake upon the principle involved. Be not ashamed, O, Senators, to skulk behind the pillars of the Capitol. The people see you, and will show you to their children, and they, to theirs; to remote generations.—National Intelligencer.

GEN. LEE AND EX-GOV. LETCHER.

The editor of the Lynchburg News, being a fellow passenger with these gentlemen on their late visit to this city, says of them, in a letter to his paper:

"Gen. Lee received the salutations and respectful compliments of many of his friends, not only in Lynchburg, but at all points along the route. These he received with that unruffled dignity and graceful politeness which have ever distinguished him, and he seemed to pay with equanimity, if not with cheerfulness, the penalty of greatness.

Gen. Lee deprecates the acerbity of political feeling now so rife in the land, and is disposed to believe that more moderation and prudence in the expression of opinion, and less bitterness in the denunciation of political opponents, would conduce more to the speedy settlement of the vexed questions which now agitate the country. He, however, studiously avoids political discussions, and with rare discretion affords no room for cavil to the enemies of the South.

Governor Letcher is as jovial and entertaining as usual. He feels a deep interest in the election soon to be held, but by the terms of his parole is prohibited from taking any active part in the canvass. He was placed under obligation, as he says, "to go home, attend to his own business, and keep quiet, and he means to observe faithfully the agreement then and there made." It is much to be regretted that in the coming conflict, Virginia is to be deprived of the services of this gallant and zealous soldier, whose name is dear ever to those who heretofore have been his implacable political enemies.

CHEAP LAND.—We recollect of reading some months since, in a Northern paper, that the taxes would be laid on the land in the Southern States so heavily, that such quantities of them would be forced into market under the sheriff's hammer, at public auction, that they would not command a shilling per acre. This prophecy has been already verified in the county of Washington Blair and Reuben Troglen. We learn that six hundred acres of good timbered land was recently sold at auction in Asheboro', at ten cents per acre. This is the beginning of the end. It is needless to add, not an acre of this land was bought by a freedman.—Greensboro' Patriot.

A remarkable illustration of the difficulty of so framing statutes that ingenious lawyers cannot pick them to pieces is contained in the decision just rendered by Judge Benedict, of the Eastern District of this State, in the case of John B. Adatte, charged with counterfeiting fractional currency. Adatte was tried some time ago and convicted, but obtained a new trial because of the exclusion of a witness in his favor. On the second trial he was again convicted under that section of the statute of 1864 which makes it a crime to have in one's possession plates of United States notes without the authority of the proper officials. A motion was made in arrest of judgment on the ground that the statute had reference only to the possession of the genuine plates, which Adatte's confessedly were not, and the Judge sustained the motion, and set the prisoner at liberty.—New York Sun.

IMPEACHMENT.

At no time since the impeachment trial began has there been so much depression and uncertainty among its advocates, and so much hopefulness and security among opponents, as now, when the case is about closed. It is understood that several Senators have prepared careful and elaborate opinions against conviction, and among them is said to be Senator Fessenden, who is not prepared to go on the record as convicting a President on such testimony and such law as have been prepared by the prosecution. This but confirms the opinion to which we have along adhered, that Mr. Johnson would be undisturbed in his functions as Chief Magistrate.—Washington Express.

A MEETING OF WHITE MEN, will be held in Oxford on Saturday 9th. inst., (to-morrow) for the purpose of perfecting a thorough organization, and to take such steps as may be necessary for their own protection, and for the overthrow of the negro,—amalgamating,—degenerating concern that has been puked up by a miserable radicalism, within our border. Let us have a full meeting. The lines have been drawn—the guantlet has been thrown—and now, necessity requires that we should at once prepare for the occasion that will present itself, to shake from us the galling and degrading yoke that, by a pusillanimous ingenuity, has been forced upon us. There is no neutral ground now—no halting between two opinions. We must either be fish or fowl. A man who will not come out in such an emergency, and show his colors, is no friend to us,—he is a secret enemy. He that is not for us, must be against us.—Henderson Index.

RECOVERING.—The many friends of the Rev. Chas. F. Deems, formerly of North Carolina, and now in charge of a Methodist church in the city of New York, will be pleased to learn that he is rapidly convalescing from his recent severe sickness, and has already resumed his ministerial duties.

Eighteen persons were poisoned by arsenic administered in their food at a boardinghouse in New Orleans, on Sunday. None are dead, however, the quantity partaken having been too large.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

SATURDAY, MAY 9, 1868

RESOLUTIONS OF MUNICIPAL AUTHORITIES.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, May 6, 1868.

At a meeting of the Board of Commissioners, of the city of Raleigh, held at the Mayor's office, on the evening of the 5th instant, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, This Board has learned that, in the recent changes of troops in this Department, Col. J. V. Bomford, the Commandant of this Post, and his command have been ordered to Charleston; Therefore,

Resolved, That this Board, in view of its past official relations with Col. Bomford, and the officers and soldiers of his command, feels called upon to express its regret at having to part with a command which, by the promptness of its action and the value of its services in the preservation of order and the administration of impartial justice, has so endeared itself to this Board and to the community generally.

Resolved, That the high soldierly qualities and gentlemanly bearing exhibited at all times by Col. Bomford, in this community, have won, for him, universal esteem as a friend and fellow citizen, and excited the liveliest interest in the future welfare of himself and his excellent family.

Resolved, That the Mayor is requested to transmit a copy of these resolutions to Col. Bomford, with the request that he communicate the same to the officers and soldiers of his command.

Resolved, That the Clerk is directed to spread these resolutions upon the minutes of the Board and to furnish copies of the same to the city press for publication.

J. J. CHRISTOPHERS, Clerk.

MEMORIAL CEMETERY.—We again remind our readers, that the usual memorial ceremonies will be observed to-day at 4 o'clock, P. M., at the Memorial Cemetery, under the auspices of the ladies of the "Memorial Association." We learn that at the request of he ladies, our gallant fellow-citizen, Capt. J. Davis, of Franklin, has consented to deliver the usual address on the occasion.

BAPTIST CHURCH.—Rev. Drury Lacy, D). will preach in the Baptist Church to-orrow (Sunday) morning and Rev. W. S. acy at night. Rev. Thos. H. Pritchard astor is absent in attendance at the Soun Baptist Convention now in session in alt'more.

The Convention meets at the invitan of the Principal and officers of the olumbia Institution for the Deaf and umb. The several methods of instrucn will be fully discussed, and such recomendations made as will conduce to the elfare of the deaf and dumb of our couny. The Board of Directors of our State titution have authorized the Principal to tend the Convention.

MR. TOWLES' AUCTION.—See the notice f the sale at auction of various articles by r. Towles to-day.

RANDOLPH MACON COLLEGE.—A propotion is being favorably discussed in Virnia among the friends of this Institution its removal from its present locality in ecklenburg, Va., to Ashland, a beautiful llage on the Railroad leading from Richnd to Fredericksburg. The change uld no doubt promote the interests of institution.

HARD PRESSED.—We regret to witness h evidences of want and poverty, as we every day, in the throng of black, and asionally white, men, women and chiln, as collect around the office of the edman's Bureau. We do not know the ent of Dr. Vogelle's ability to relieve the ts of these poor people, but we fear it mited. Many of them seem to be per well able to labor, but we fear too y of them have learned to rely upon rity so long, they have ceased to depend their own efforts. The fear is too that y of the blacks do not consider it a rity for the government to provide for m, but a duty, hence not only the aged infirm and truly worthy crowd around, many who are able to work. In some s the difficulty of obtaining employment will pay, may render their appeal for necessary.

he Mississippi Central Railroad has been d to a Delaware company for sixteen s. The lessees assume the entire inedness of the road, except the debt to State of Tennessee. The road is to be ned to the stockholders at the expiraof the lease in the same condition as it delivered. Arrangements are being e for an extension to Louisville.

e father of Mr. Gladstone, the English man, though he died a baronet, began a cabin-boy.

CASWELL COUNTY.

Caswell county, with a colored majority of 700, has given the Rebels 22 majority.

We learn that the proof is ample that violence, fraud and bribery were used to defeat the Republicans in Caswell. It is also alleged, with much show of truth, that the ballot-box at Yanceyville, was opened and Republican tickets destroyed. One of the chief Registrars, Robert E. Potts, is a wretch, and it is believed that he played in every conceivable way into the hands of the Rebels. The troops sent to Yanceyville to protect the loyal people, were placed at the disposal of the Rebel Sheriff, Griffiths, and used against loyal men. Three or four colored men were arrested and put in jail, simply, as we learn, on the charge of "loitering" about the polls, while such big Rebels as Sam Hill and John Kerr, who have been promoting sedition and blood shed, were permitted to go at large. Many of the colored people, seeing the troops turned against them, became alarmed and did not vote.

The character of this man Potts is well known, and yet he has been allowed to remain in office and conduct an election for loyal men!

The loyal people of Caswell are entitled to a new election, and we trust they will get it.

We regret to state that the Hon. Bedford Brown, in his old age, crowned with years and honors, stepped down into this mess of treason and gave countenance to these outrages by running as the Rebel candidate for the Senate in Caswell. Let no man be pronounced fortunate in all things until the grave has closed over him.—Raleigh Standard.

We never saw as many infamous lies crowded in so small a space as the above article from the Standard contains. Why, they no doubt extort a derisive smile from the "archives of gravity," and almost put a "chicken thief" to the blush. At this writing (Saturday) the charge of "violence, fraud, and bribery" at the election in this county is being investigated, we learn, at Yanceyville, by the military authorities.—We are glad of it, provided honest and honorable men have been sent there to investigate—so far from shrinking from an investigation by such men, the Conservative party of Caswell county, challenges the most rigid scrutiny. But, if the men sent here to investigate, are a set of low down scallawag imps from hell, (understand that to mean a "loil" League den,) who would steal a herring off a grid iron quite as soon as Stevens would snatch Holden's old rooster from his roost, we shall regret it, because scamps will not hesitate to exclude honest men from the "investigation," and bribe negroes to swear to anything they want. Let the investigation be open and fair, let it not be an ex parte investigation—and if the result does not satisfy Gen. Canby that both Holden's informant and Holden ought to be sent to the penitentiary, for uttering and publishing such infamous lies and slanders, we'll confess Holden tells the truth when he can't help it.—Milton Chronicle.

Wonders never cease! That noble old Roman, Hon. Bedford Brown, who by some means has long escaped the venom of the Standard, has at length incurred its ire.—What can be the heart of a man, who can assail an aged veteran who has borne himself so nobly, when he is sinking in the grave? Who can envy the feelings of any man who can say that Bedford Brown, of Caswell, has "stepped down into this mess of treason," because he consented to bear the banner of his State and of his own race against the minions of power, venality, corruption and negrodom.

We are pained to learn the death of Mr. James C. Stevenson, who died on the 28th. of April last, at the residence of Dr. John Wilson—his son-in-law, in Alamance county. Mr. Stevenson was an old native of Newbern, but was driven from his home during the war, by a horde of plundering yankees, and his house burnt down by the torch of the barbarians. He was in his 68th. year, and a purer christian, or a soul riper for heaven, never winged its way to God. His, was the loveliest character, we think we ever met, and this is but the testimony of all who knew him.—Mr. S's remains were taken to Newbern, where his afflicted relatives and many time honored friends paid the last sad tribute to the man they loved—one of God's noblest works.—Milton Chronicle.

The above gives us the first intelligence we had received of Mr. Stevenson's death. We have known him long and well as an excellent man and useful citizen. Alas! how rapidly are the aged and the virtuous who connect us with the better days of the past, passing away.

For the Sentinel.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Your correspondent from Pittsboro, says he regrets the publication of his letter in which he charges me with dealing unjustly and using fraud at the ballot-box at the election held in Chatham County on the 21st., 22nd. and 23rd, of April last.

This "respectable gentleman" says he made the statements upon the authority of "respectable persons." Now, Messrs. Editors, my answer to these "respectable persons" is, that they have all lied. If they have not, let them prove their charges against me.

Messrs. Editors, be kind enough to publish the above card, so that the "respectable gentleman and persons" may see it as well as the charges made against me. I am gentlemen, with great respect,

The high officials of the Church of England are discussing the feasibility of bringing back the Wesleyans to the church.—Some of the favorers of this scheme even propose to make bishops of some leading Wesleyans, who, they assert, would do no discredit to lawn sleeves, Episcopal churches, or House of Lords. On the other hand, the Wesleyans show no disposition to accept such overtures. They seem less willing than formerly to support the establishment against dissenters, and recently they demand that a portion of the colleges of the great universities of Oxford and Cambridge shall be given up to their control.

AMERICAN MEDICAL CONVENTION.

WASHINGTON, May 8, M.

The American Medical Association meets next year at New Orleans. Dr. W. O. Baldwin, of Montgomery Ala., was elected President. On receiving him in behalf of the Association, Dr. Gross said: "I welcome you as the representative of our long lost brethren. May God bless you—God bless your people—God bless all of us."

Dr. Baldwin replied at length, and was frequently applauded.

JUDGE CHASE'S POSITION.

WASHINGTON, May 8, M.

Judge Chase's connection with the adjournment was misstated last night. Adjournment had been fixed to 11 o'clock on Monday. Judge Chase said it would place him in an embarrassing position to frame the questions and therefore he should like to have the advice of the Senate on the subject, and would be obliged to them if they would adjourn until 10 o'clock on Monday instead of 11, which was adopted.

SOUTH CAROLINA CONSTITUTION.

WASHINGTON, May 8, M.

The South Carolina Committee will protest against the Constitution before the Reconstruction Committee. Mr. Stevens received them with a chilling remark, that what the protestants claimed as grievances, he regarded as virtues.—Col. Thomas addressed the Committee making the point that the white people would not patiently submit to negro supremacy, and that while they would be compelled to submit to the yoke, there could be no real peace until it was removed. The question of taxation seemed to impress the Committee seriously. Stevens suggested the plan of allowing the property-holders to fix taxation.

Many Southerners were present in the Committee room, and the Committee are hopeful of some modification of the most objectionable features of the Constitution. The Committee are favorably received, and their views fully endorsed by representative men here of the Northern Democracy.

Our Midnight Dispatches.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 8, P. M.

HOUSE.—Private bills were considered.

Stevens reported a bill admitting Arkansas.—He considered the Constitution unexceptionable, and did not desire to debate the bill.

Several members complained that they had never seen the Constitution.

Baker, though favoring the provisions, doubted the Constitutional power to enforce stipulation regarding suffrage. Business of the kind should not be done hurriedly, nor should the bill pass until the Constitution was examined.

Stevens said "there was not a clause in the Constitution objectionable to a man who favored freedom."

Stevens demanded the previous question.

The previous question was seconded and the main question ordered.

Stevens having the floor, yielded fifteen minutes to Woodward, who, never having seen the Constitution, declined speaking

Beck stated that if the time be allowed him, he could demonstrate that the Constitution never received a majority of the votes of the people of Arkansas. A few days would show this, therefore they rushed this bill through. He said that the franchise and educational clauses were particular obnoxious.

The bill finally passed 110 to 31.

Baker, Logan, Spaulding and Williams, of Pennsylvania, voting nay.

Paine reported a bill admitting South Carolina Ordered to be printed. Adjourned to Monday.

Full meeting of the Cabinet to-day.

The Republican Congressional Committee have advices from Florida, that the Constitution is adopted and the Legislature is Radical.

VIRGINIA CONSERVATIVE STATE CONVENTION.

RICHMOND, May 8, P. M.

The Conservative State Convention to-day nominated Robt. E. Withers, of Lynchburg, for Governor, and Gen James Walker, of Pulaski, for Lieut. Governor; J. L. Marge, Jr., of Spottsylvania, Attorney General and Marmaduke Johnson, of Richmond, Congressman at large. The vote for Governor was Withers 52, J. B. Baldwin 49. Withers and Walker are eligible to office under the Reconstruction Acts of Congress, but not under the test-oath of the new Constitution.

T. S. Bocock, Jno B Baldwin, Fayette McMullen, Geo. Blow and Thos. S. Flournoy were appointed delegates at large to the Democratic National Convention.

A Resolution was adopted thanking naturalized citizens for their heretofore unanimous co-operation with the Conservative party.

The Convention adjourned sine die. No platform was adopted.

FROM RICHMOND.

RICHMOND May 8, P. M.

Gen. Schofield has appointed Francis DeCordy mayor of Norfolk vice last appointee, who could not take the oath.

Some of the dissatisfied members of the Republican Convention have gotten up a ticket. H. M. Bowden of Norfolk for Governor. Dr. Bayne, (negro,) for Lieut. Governor and T. R. Bowden the present Attorney General for that position. The movement is not likely to amount to anything

Two hundred and eighty three municipal officers have been appointed by General Schofield since January first.

FROM GEORGIA.

SAVANNAH, May 8, P. M.

THE WEEKLY SUN.
THE CIRCULATION OF THE "WEEKLY SUN" always very large, has of late so increased that it may be called universal. It is shedding its light for all, in all sections—North, East, South and West. Its intercourse with the South which was necessarily interrupted during the war, has been again resumed, and the evidences of public appreciation from that quarter are multiplying every day. When honest efforts are put forth, as in the "Weekly Sun," to meet the demand for a reliable weekly record of events and an entertaining vehicle of light literature, which, while it instructs and pleases, aims to promote virtue as well as intelligence, and to exclude every line of an impure and immoral tendency, it is cheering to receive such evidences of public appreciation as are coming to us from all parts of the country.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
The "WEEKLY SUN" is published every Saturday at the following exceedingly low rates to individuals and clubs when sent from one Post Office. The money, in all cases, to be remitted in advance.

For one copy for one year	$1 50
Club of six copies, one year	8 00
Club of twelve copies one year	15 00
Club of fifteen copies, one year	18 00
Club of twenty copies, one year	22 00
Club of twenty-five copies, one year	25 00

Postmasters will always act as agents for persons in the neighborhood of their respective offices, and forward orders and cash under the regular authority of the Department. The safest mode in remitting subscriptions is by draft or Post office order. Address

DAILY SENTINEL.

SATURDAY, MAY 9, 1868.

A Hundred Years to Come.

Who'll press for gold this crowded street,
A hundred years to come?
Who'll tread yon church with willing feet
A hundred years to come?
Pale, trembling age, and fiery youth,
And childhood, with his brow of truth,
The rich and poor, on land, on sea
Where will the mighty millions be
A hundred years to come?

We all within our graves shall sleep,
A hundred years to come;
No living soul for us will weep,
A hundred years to come;
But other men our land will till,
And others then our streets will fill,
And other words will sing as gay,
And bright the sunshine as to-day,
A hundred years to come.

Actual Size of the Stones of the Pyramids.—I dare say very many will differ from me in opinion, and say hard things in reference to my lack of taste and want of appreciation of the so styled wonderful, but I am bold to confess that my first impression on reaching the pyramids of Sakkara was one of disappointment. From what I had read, and from all I had heard tourists relate from time to time regarding the wonderful size of the blocks of stone composing these great structures, I was led to imagine that the individual blocks of stone were so large that it became a difficult matter to form any clear conception as to the manner in which they were piled one upon another. The blocks of stone, when I had looked well at them, did not convey to my mind any very exalted idea of magnitude; neither could, for the life of me, see any real difficulty where laborers, as we read, were numbered by the thousand in raising any one of the blocks of stone comprising the mass of the pyramid from the base to the summit. To put this matter to a more practical test, we carefully measured some of the larger blocks in the Gizeh pyramids, and by calculation we found that the heaviest block of stone making up the structure of the pyramid did not exceed two and a half tons, and that by far the greater part were, of course, much lighter.—J. K. Lord, in Land and Water.

A gentleman living near Portsmouth, Ohio, has identified a ghost. His family had often been annoyed by ghostly visitations during his absence. He concluded to "possum" absence, but watch at home for the spook. The Tribune says: "About midnight his ghostship appeared and commenced his 'spiritual manifestations.' The watcher, with revolver in hand, slyly slipped to the door, opened it suddenly, and laid violent hands upon his visitant. Bringing him into the house, a light was struck, the 'winding sheet' torn off, and there stood revealed to his astonished gaze the form of one of his neighbors, who had long been anxious to purchase the 'haunted house,' and had taken this course to depreciate its value. He went down on his knees and begged his captor not to expose him, and he, after a judicious application of cowhide, turned the rascal out. The house has not been 'haunted' since.

A Strange Adventure.—An exchange tells the story, of a young man who had visited the ruins of Camanche after the fearful tornado which visited that town, and who, during the recent gale which demolished the Rock Island bridge and did a vast amount of injury to the West, found himself in a very unpleasant situation. He had noticed the ominous look of the clouds, and concluded that the cellar of the house he was in would be no protection. He finally took up a temporary residence in a large new cistern. He lowered himself down by a harness rein, which proved too short, and finally gave way. The rain commenced to fall, and the cistern to fill, without there being any chance for his escape. After several hours' swimming, he was rescued by his father.

Recovery of a Long Lost Child.—More than three years ago a small boy, who was leading his blind father through the streets, was enticed away by some men attached to a regiment of Pennsylvania soldiers passing through the city. His parents have mourned him as dead until a few days since, when their lost boy was returned by a benevolent gentleman residing on the Monongahela river, in Pennsylvania. This gentleman found the boy residing with a neighbor, and in conversation with him succeeded in ascertaining his father's name and circumstances, as well as the facts connected with his abduction, and he lost no time in voluntarily bringing the boy home.—When the little fellow left, he was a pupil of male grammar school No. 20, and yesterday morning, armed with a permit, he again presented himself at the school and was admitted.—Baltimore Sun, 6th.

A strange case was developed in the Yorkville Police Court on Monday. Four school girls, each about ten years of age, agreed to commit suicide by taking poison, for no conceivable reason except a morbid mania on the subject. Only one of them took the poison, however; and the druggist who sold it has been arrested, and was required to give bail for his appearance.—N. Y. Herald.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE

OFFICIAL HISTORY OF THE WAR,

ITS CAUSES, CHARACTER, CONDUCT AND RESULTS.

By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.

A BOOK FOR ALL SECTIONS AND ALL PARTIES.

THIS GREAT WORK PRESENTS THE ONLY complete and impartial analysis of the causes of the War yet published, and gives those interior lights and shadows of the great conflict only known to those high officers who watched the flood-tide of revolution from its fountain springs, and which were so accessible to Mr. Stephens, from his position as second officer of the Confederacy.

To a public that has been surfeited with APPARENTLY SIMILAR PRODUCTIONS, we promise a change of fare, both agreeable and salutary, and an intellectual treat of the highest order. The Great American War has AT LAST found a historian worthy of its importance, and at whose hands it will receive that moderate, candid and impartial treatment which truth and justice so urgently demand.

The intense desire everywhere manifested to obtain this work, its official character and ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B., except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

It is the duty of the maker of an instrument to affix and cancel the stamp thereon. If he neglects to do so, the party for whom it is made, may stamp it before it is used; and if used after the 30th of July, 1864, and used without a stamp, it cannot afterwards be effectually stamped. Any failure upon the part of the maker of an instrument, to appropriately stamp it, renders him liable to a penalty of two hundred dollars.

Suits are commenced in many States by other process than writ, viz: summons, warrants, publication, &c., in which case these, as the original process, severally require stamps.

Writs of scire facias are subject to stamp duty as original process.

The jurat of an affidavit, taken before a Justice of the Peace, Notary Public, or other officer duly authorized to take affidavits, is held to be a certificate, and is subject to a stamp duty of five cents, except when taken in suits of legal proceedings.

Certificates of loan in which there shall appear any printed or written evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand or at any time designated, are subject to stamp duty as Promissory Notes.

The assignment of a mortgage is subject to the same duty as that imposed upon the original instrument; that is to say, for every sum of five hundred dollars, or any fractional part thereof, of the amount secured by the mortgage, at time of its assignment, there must be affixed a stamp or stamps, denoting a duty of five cents.

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamps to which this instrument is liable, under the law, may be affixed and cancelled by one of the parties,

In conveyance of real estate, the law provides that the stamp affixed must answer to the value of the estate or interest conveyed.

No stamp is required on warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required and whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers, such stamp duty being the highest rates required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgment of the instrument which is not stamped.

In view of the scarcity of money, and the severity of the times, the Proprietor of the SENTINEL has determ ned to reduce the terms of the paper, to commence after the 31st. DECEMBER, next, and to make such improvements in its general character as will commend it to the patronage of an enlightened public.

Obedience to law and the enforcement of order;

The supremacy of the civil over the military, in time of peace;

The equality of the three co-ordinate branches of the government;

The sovereignty of the States over their own internal affairs, in strict conformity to the Constitution;

The maintenance of freedom and justice to all, without distinction of color, but the supremacy of the white race as the governing class;

Opposition to Radicalism in all its phases.

As a NEWS journal, it shall be equal to any.—The principal markets will be regularly published.

Its LITERARY character shall be maintained and improved, by contributions from our best writers.
